GANTNER IN ON INVESTIGATION

Rushville Man Who Was Chief Enrolling Clerk of Senate in 1913 Called to Indianapolis.

TO EXPLAIN MYSTERY OF LAW

He is Certain Lake County Bill Was Not Enrolled in Senate After Comparing the Handwriting.

John Gantner of this city, chief enrolling clerk of the state senate during the 1913 session of the Indiana general assembly, called on Governor Ralston by request yesterday, according to dispatches from Indianapolis.

The governor is conducting an investigation of the mysterious methods which caused at least three bills in the 1913 legislature to become laws without traveling through the regular channels. Mr. Gantner was called to throw some light on the situation.

Wade H. Free of Anderson, secretary of the senate, has been working with the governor in an effort to learn how the Lake county recorder's salary increase bill and the township assessors' increase bill became laws. In has just developed that a bill introduced by Mark Storen of Scottsburg, recently appointed United States marshal for Indiana, to move the Jennings county seat from Vernon to North Vernon became a law although it was not regularly passed.

According to dispatches the Lake county bill started out as a senate bill and, therefore, to follow the natural course of bills toward the governor's desk for his signature or vote, it had to be enrolled by the senate's clerks, or some one else.

Gantner told the Governor that after investigating the bill in question, the enrolled copy of which is in the office of the secretary of state, he was certain that it had not been enrolled in the senate's enrolling room. He said he had compared the handwriting with that of all the clerks that were employed in the room and that it did not tally with any.

Mr. Free, on the other hand, contended that the only bills that came to the senate for enrollment, which were not enrolled in the senate enrolling room—to his knowledge—were several which he gave to Miss Gertrude McHugh, executive clerk in Governor Ralston's office, who, with the help of several women employees at the statehouse, enrolled these bills during the last few days of the session when the clerical work in the legislature was so voluminous that outside assistance had to be called.

It was explained that Miss McHugh, with the assistance of some of the Democratic leaders in the legislative, previously had enrolled the public utility bill. This method of procedure was taken because of the extreme care which the administration desired this bill to be prepared through its devious windings in legislative channels. Miss McHugh's work on this bill had been such that Mr. Free felt he could entrust other important bills to her, he said today.

An investigation by Miss McHugh and Mr. Free Tuesday resulted, each said, in the discovery that the Lake county bill was enrolled in different handwriting from any of those enrolled by Miss McHugh or her assistants. Besides this fact it was discovered, each said, that the red ink underlining in the enrolled Lake

NEW POSTMASTER NAMED

Melvin Goddard is Appointed For Manilla Office Today.

Melvin Goddard of Manilla was today appointed postmaster at Manilla, according to a United Press dispatch from Washington received by the Republican. He is a young man and is a Democrat. He will succeed Fred Haehl, who has been postmaster for several years. Mr. Haehl has been expecting a successor to be named for some time. Manilla has a fourth-class office.

THREE CASES ON CHANGE OF VENUE

Two of Them Are Malpractice Suits Against Dr. Frank J. Spilman of Connersville For $15,000.

THIRD $650 DEMAND ON NOTES

Three suits here on a change of venue from Fayette county were received this morning by Clerk Taylor. Two of the suits are against Frank J. Spilman, a physician of Connersville, in which a total of $15,000 in damages is demanded. Mrs. Myrtle Smith, wife of John F. Smith, is the plaintiff in one and Mr. Smith is the plaintiff in the other. Mrs. Smith alleges that she was treated in a wrongful and negligent manner by the doctor following the birth of a child. She demands $10,000. Mr. Smith bases his suit on the loss of service caused by his wife's illness and demands $5,000.

The third suit is that of the State Bank of Westerfield against Elmer and Annie Parsons, in which $650 is demanded on notes.

ONE FIELD AVERAGES 41 BUSHELS TO ACRE

John Nelson of Northern Rush County Has What Reported to be Best Crop in the County.

WHEAT HARVEST ABOUT OVER

What is reported to be the best wheat yield in Rush county this season was in the northern part of the county on John Nelson's farm. He had one small field which averaged forty-one bushels to the acre. He had still another field on which the average was twenty-eight bushels to the acre. Because of these high averages, the average for the whole crop on his farm this year was brought up to near twenty-four bushels to the acre.

Wheat threshing will be practically completed this week. There may be a few stray cases where wheat harvest will be carried over into next week. The general impression among farmers seems to be that though the wheat yield this year is a little above the average it is not up to expectations aroused earlier in the season. With very few exceptions, however, the quality of the wheat has been very good.

The Rush County National bank has filed suit on notes against John D. Stewart and Mary E. Stewart, demanding $3,000.

ATTACKS WOMAN AND PAYS A FINE

Isaac Adams, Employed on Hargrove Farm Between Arlington and Gwynneville Defendant.

CRIMINAL ASSAULT CHARGED

But Squire Decides Evidence Does Not Prove This Contention and He Escapes Easily.

Isaac Adams, a farm hand employed on the Hargrove farm, between Arlington and Gwynneville, was fined five dollars and costs yesterday by Squire Pryor in Shelbyville for assault and battery on Mrs. Allie Ray, wife of Thomas Ray, living east of Gwynneville.

Between forty and fifty residents of that neighborhood were in Shelbyville for the preliminary hearing. Adams was charged with assault and battery with criminal intent but the evidence was not sufficient to bind him over to the grand jury and he was fined on the assault and battery charge.

The attempted criminal assault was alleged to have been made on July 13. Adams, according to the evidence had made himself obnoxious to Mrs. Ray before that time and had been ordered to stay off the Ray farm. He came to the house on July 13 and accosted Mrs. Ray. According to the evidence, he later took hold of her arm and started to lead her away. Mrs. Ray resisted and succeeded in eluding Adams and ran into the house. Adams, it was shown, had previously told a neighbor that he liked Mrs. Ray better than any woman in the neighborhood and would like to hold her in his arms.

Following the rebuff on July 13, Adams, it was shown, returned to the Ray home the next day but failed to gain entrance. Mrs. Ray had locked all the windows and doors. Prosecutor Cheney contended that these facts, brought out in the testimony of various witnesses, were sufficient to show that Adams had assaulted Mrs. Ray with criminal intent.

Squire Pryor held that the state did not make a sufficient case and assessed a fine of five dollars and costs.

SIX DIE IN RIOT TODAY

Fighting Between Strikers and Cossacks Continues in Russia.

(By United Press.)

St. Petersburg, Russia, July 23.—Fighting between strikers and Cossacks broke out in the streets today. Six strikers were killed and scores injured. Rioting has continued for four days and the strikers are increasing in number hourly. They claim 160,000 in the capital today.

The rioting grew more violent later when a trial was made to resume street car service. Eighty cars were burned by the strikers. The Cossacks used knouts with deadly effect and every hospital is overflowing with injured, many dying.

The Modern Woodmen will elect a banker, to fill the unexpired term of Banker Drake tonight, and the consul will give out the new pass-word to those present. A large attendance is desired.

POKING FUN AT JOHN WALLACE

Chicago Newspapers Have Sport at His Expense After Latest Winters Theory Explodes.

IS VERY WELL KNOWN HERE

Still Clings to Belief That Body of Girl in Potters' Field Missing Newcastle Child.

Chicago newspapers yesterday gave a great deal of advertising to John Wallace of Newcastle, brother of Mrs. Charles Caron of this city and well known here where he once worked. It was largely due to the instigation of Mr. Wallace, together with Officer Romaine of the Newcastle police force, that the theory that Catherine Winters' body lay in the potters' field at Urbana, Ill., was expounded.

When the theory was exploded, Chicago newspapers poked fun at Mr. Wallace. Dr. Winters, father of the girl, also was quoted in an interview that he expected to file charges against Mr. Wallace, but it is not believed in Newcastle that he will do it.

Referring to Mr. Wallace, the Chicago Tribune yesterday said:

Another "solution" of the famous mystery—in many ways the most logical and promising of any yet brought forward—has gone to smash and another disappointed amateur detective is about ready to yield up his star, fold away his false whiskers, and leave the honors with Sherlock Holmes.

"Don't be too hard on me, boys," he said, in a final oration to the press. "I'm going to stick to the job and maybe the laugh will be on some one else before long."

"Mark my words"—he pointed to the iron gate of the Mount Hope cemetery receiving room, which had just been shut on his Waterloo—"Catherine Winters lies behind that door."

Until the last moment Wallace held the savoir faire and assurance which had won him the attention, the admiration, and finally the cooperation of the Champaign county authorities. While the coroner's medical experts were gathering at the entrance to the receiving room of the little cemetery office building on the outskirts of Urbana he strutted through the crowd, rubbing his chin, pulling his nose and darting X-ray glances at Nicholas H. Larry, who claimed the body as that of his daughter.

Mr. Wallace dropped in from Indiana last Friday. He first went to Guy Stewart, an undertaker.

"Did you, about sixteen months ago, receive the body of a child from a southern city?" he asked.

"I did. It came from Daytona, Fla."

"What did you do with that body?" "I placed it in a vault at Mount Hope cemetery. The name, I believe, was Larry."

A. L. Havard, superintendent of the cemetery, was next visited by Mr. Wallace.

"There was such a body in the vault but I buried it two months ago in the potter's field," he said. "No one had come to claim it."

"Ah-ha," murmured Havard's questioner. "I thought as much."

Off to the state's attorney, Louis A. Busch, went Wallace.

He whispered long and earnestly in the prosecutor's ear. When he had finished Mr. Busch understood

POLICEMAN BADLY HURT

Lieut. White and Others Injured When Auto Turns Over Today.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 23.—Walter White, police lieutenant, was seriously injured today when the police auto turned over while making a fast run to an explosion of presto-light gas at stop 4 on the Shelbyville traction line. E. R. Menden was seriously burned in the explosion. Jerry Kinney, lieutenant of detectives, was slightly bruised and Driver Dolan was hurt when the auto turned over. The accident was caused by a bursting tire.

SUIT AGAINST NEW HAVEN FILED TODAY

Attorney General McReynolds Brings Action in New York to Dissolve the Railroad.

ALLEGATIONS OF THE BILL

New York, July 23.—Attorney General McReynolds today filed in the court here a dissolution suit against the New Haven road under the Sherman law. He acted on the order of President Wilson. The road is declared a combination in restraint of trade and is scathingly denounced. The bill charges that the New Haven obtained control of nine railroad systems, 22 boat lines and 1,500 miles of trolley lines. It charges the road earns about ninety-one per cent of the gross freight revenue and about ninety-five per cent of the gross passenger revenue of all New England railroads. The government asks for a separation of all the railroads, steamships and trolley lines.

AVERAGE LOSS TO FARMERS $95 EACH

Figures Show Slump of 15 Cents a Bushel in Wheat Prices During Democratic Rule.

AS COMPARED TO REPUBLICAN

Washington, July 23.—Indiana wheat farmers have lost an average of $95, each year by the slump in the price of wheat since the Republican party went out of power. All the Indiana wheat farmers put together have lost $6,450,000 a year. Recent hot debates in the house of representatives led to an investigation of wheat prices. The results of this investigation are now given out for the first time. The figures given are right up to July 1. They reveal a general slump of fifteen cents a bushel in wheat prices since Republican times.

There are 104,273 wheat reporting farmers in Indiana, whose estimated wheat production this year was 43,000,000 bushels. The figures show the average wheat farmer throughout the county has lost $95 a year through the decrease in the price of his wheat from what it was under Republican times. The loss of the wheat farmers of the United States is $139,500,000 a year. The total estimated wheat production of the country for this year is 930,000,000 bushels from reports from 1,458,667 wheat farmers.

WILL FILE LIBEL AGAINST TEDDY

Chairman Barnes of New York State Republican Committee Makes This Announcement Today.

INSTRUCTS HIS ATTORNEYS

His Decision Follows Attack of Roosevelt on Him in Endorsing Hinman's Candidacy.

New York, July 23.—Chairman Barnes of the state Republican committee announced this afternoon that he had today instructed his attorneys immediately to bring action against Col. Roosevelt for libel.

Barnes' decision followed an attack upon him by Colonel Roosevelt in a statement endorsing the candidacy of Harvey D. Hinman for governor.

"I have nothing whatever to say in reply to Colonel Roosevelt diatribe, except that it lacks dignity and self-respect," Barnes declared today.

"When one becomes involved in an issue of this kind with one of importance there are three courses left open to him:

"He can either submit to the allegations, thereby admitting them; engage in an altercation, making statements through the public press or he can take up the matter through the courts, forcing the one making the charges to stand responsible.

"I deny everyone of the charges made by Roosevelt and I have instructed my attorneys to take action for libel."

Charles Ertle, of Washington township, is seriously ill at his home there.

Dr. C. L. Smullen, of Raleigh who has been ill for the past two weeks, was somewhat better today.

Dr. R. T. Blount, who has been ill with yellow jaundice at his home in North Morgan street, was somewhat improved today but is still in a serious condition.

The funeral services of Mrs. Harry Richardson, who died yesterday afternoon at her home in North Maple street, will be conducted tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock at the Second Methodist church. Burial will take place in East Hill cemetery.

Express packages in nearly all large railway stations are now handled by electric trucks and elevators, trucks and elevators.

Apples and Clams

"Humility never sold any apples," said one of the great apple kings who has built up a world wide business by advertising.

"Toot your horn if you don't sell a clam," the great merchant prince, Robert C. Ogden, used to say.

It was the homely way in which these two men summed up the power of advertising.

They believed if they had a good thing they should let the public know it. They followed the rule persistently and prospered.

The best means of reaching the people of this town is through the advertising columns of The Daily Republican.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. SCENE FROM "ACROSS THE ATLANTIC."

ALICE HOLLISTER.

IN "Across the Atlantic" the prospect of an overseas flight from England to America plays an important part. Gustave Hamel, who recently lost his life, and Claude Grahame-White, the famous English air men, appear in leading roles, and the production is filled with thrills.

"In the Days of Slavery" is a story of the south, by Richard R. Ridgely. Colonel Fairfax loses several thousand dollars to Carter, who insists upon payment. Then he offers to cancel the debt if the colonel's daughter, Virginia, will marry him. The girl has a terrible dream, in which Carter's real nature is shown, and awakes, with a scream, to find that her lover has come to her father's assistance.

"Brought to Justice" is the latest release featuring Mona Darkfeather in her famous presentations of Indian life. Art Ortega plays opposite her.

In "A Modern Samson," by J. Edward Hungerford, Algernon Leiter, a human mosquito, is scorned by gigantic Mr. Strong and his statuesque daughter because of his puny weakness, so Algy goes into a violent course of training, and fortune in the shape of six husky woodsmen smiles upon him when the Strong auto is stalled in the mud.

"When Dreams Come True" is the story of a broken doll, mostly for the children, but carrying a strong human note that appeals to every heart.

Sue, a deaf mute, becomes acquainted with a wireless operator at Cliff Island and learns to use the apparatus in "The Voice of Silence." Three crooks of international notoriety overpower the operator and communicate with the yacht on which they plan to escape, but Sue warns nearby ships, they are captured, and Sue gets a reward.

Alice Hollister is fast becoming one of the best liked young ladies in the motion picture world. She is exceptionally versatile and can carry almost any sort of role to success.

In "The Tango in Tuckerville" the opening of the New York Lady Manicurists' parlor starts a rumpus. The New Yorkers are far too good looking to suit the native wives, who open a tango parlor, from which their husbands are excluded. The New Yorkers open a rival "temple," and then the factions peacefully unite.

A fanciful film production which ought to prove interesting to young and old alike is "The War of the Lilliputians."

CAN'T GET YOUR GOAT WITHOUT PAY

That is, of Course, Unless Your Own Dog Gets it, According to Ruling of State Board of Accounts.

"NANNY" IS "LIVE STOCK"

No one can get your goat in Indiana without paying you for it—that is, unless your own dog gets it. Then it's different. That was the way the state board of accounts decided when it answered a question from Newt. H. Walker, trustee of Jackson township, Brown county. Even if your neighbor's dog gets only a mouthful of your goat the township trustee must estimate the damage to the goat and make the loss right with you, even if it is only a dime.

For goats are "other like stock" under the dog fund law of Indiana, the state board held, and "other live stock" when it is damaged by dogs, must be paid for out of the township funds. The value fixed on your goat, however, when your neighbor's dog gets him, "must not exceed the amount the animal would have sold for on the market for cash."

Goats are not merely for use in initiations, either, but have a real everyday value, the board held, and "from the earliest historic times have been raised and kept on farms for the flesh, milk, hair and hides."

ORDERS STATUTE BE REPLACED

President Carbajal Causes Revulsion of Feeling Toward United States in Mexico City.

KINDLIER ATTITUDE SHOWN

Press Now Demands Full Reparation For All Americans Suffering Loss During Riots.

(BY WILLIAM G. SHEPHERD)
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Mexico City, July 23.—A revulsion of feeling toward the United States was apparent today in this city. It came following the order of President Carbajal that the statute of Washington be replaced upon its pedestal from which it was torn down during anti-American riots. The feeling that the Americans will evacuate Vera Cruz as soon as a duly elected president is installed is general all over the city.

Kindlier feelings towards Americans is shown on all sides, especially by the press. The press is demanding that reparation in full be made to all Americans who suffered during the riots. The papers demand that the arm of the statute which has been missing since it was torn down be returned at once.

Carbajal is master of the situation here. There is little fear of Zapata. Carbajal needs no outside assistance. The capital is quiet.

—The Rev. and Mrs. F. B. Sterns and daughter, Miss Anna Sterns, left today for Rapid City, Mich., a summer resort, for an outing. On the way home they will stop off at Winona Lake for the Bible conference.

"HIGHS" MAY CHASE "LOWS" OFF THE JOB

This is Contention of Weather Man and he Predicts Cooler Weather For Northern Indiana.

STREET TEMPERATURE OF 98

The weather man was doing his best today to set a new heat record and it appeared for a time that he would succeed, but for the joyful prediction this afternoon that it would be "cooler in the north" (meaning northern Indiana) tonight. This upholds the contention of the weather man that there is a low pressure holding sway over Indiana and that just as soon as some "highs" chase it off the job, there will be some cooler weather. There are two or three "highs" all about this "low," the weather man explains, and they will most undoubtedly center on the "low" and drive it out.

Street temperatures of ninety-eight degrees were registered about two o'clock this afternoon and thermometers in the residence district which had not felt the effects of the sun all day were only two or three degrees below that temperature. The "oldest inhabitant" said today he saw more signs of rain than he had in a long time, but he did not explain what they were.

Need Republican Senate.

Did you know what the election of a Republican president in 1916 would not be sufficient to guarantee the repeal of the Democratic tariff bill which has been the means of demoralizing the agricultural and commercial conditions of the country?

Unless a big majority of the senate seats that become vacant this year are filled with Republicans at the election this fall, it will be impossible to put into effect a protective tariff law before the end of the next national administration or before March 4, 1921. A Democratic majority in the upper house of Congress, even if the next house is overwhelmingly Republican and a Republican president elected in 1916, would be able to prevent the repeal of the present Democratic tariff bill for six years. Senators are elected for six years and that is why such great importance is attached to the 1914 senatorial contests in a number of states. The terms of the following Republican senators expire next March: Perkins of California, Brandegee of Connecticut, Brady of Idaho, Sherman of Illinois, Cummins of Iowa, Bristow of Kansas, Gallinger of New Hampshire, Root of

New York, Gronna of North Dakota, Burton of Ohio, Penrose of Pennsylvania, Crawford of South Dakota, Smoot of Utah, Dillingham of Vermont, Jones of Washington and Stephenson of Wisconsin.

The national Republican leaders expect to impress on the minds of the manufacturers, workingmen and farmers of these states who are now feeling the disastrous effects of the Democratic tariff bill the great importance of this phase of the present political situation.

The election of a Republican house this fall will not be sufficient; unless a big majority of the senators to be chosen this year are Republicans the country will have no relief from the present business depression for six long years.

The Republicans of the First district, with S. W. Cook as their nominees for Congress, have adopted the following slogan: "S. W. C.—Sure Winner for Congress."

TO STRIKE BLOW AT LIVING COST

Department of Agriculture Says Hay

Growing is More Profitable Than

Corn Growing.

IN MIDDLE WEST STATES

Casual Conclusion of Travelers is

That District is Home of

"Abandoned Farms."

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 22:—New England farms will have a blow at the high cost of living, if the opinion of an expert of the Department of Agriculture is to be taken as against the casual conclusion of travelers who from what they have seen from train windows have made up their minds that New England is the real home of "Abandoned Farms."

Two classes of persons have, apparently, firmly made up their minds that farming in New England is a profitless tickling of barren rocks and clods. One of these classes is composed of persons who have seen nothing of farming in New England for twenty years, but who remember that it was in the days when they were boys, and then think of the big fertile farms of the middle west, (exploited almost as much as the "Abandoned Farms" of New England). The second consists of those who have formed their opinion recently, but from what they have seen from train windows as they rapidly skimmed through.

But two important elements have been operating. One is that the land in the West, once so free to all comers, and so cheap per acre, has advanced to fabulous figures, making it necessary for the farmers of that section to obtain higher prices for their products. Another is that a large growing consuming population in New England desires food, while the difficulty in importing some of the perishable or bulky farm products from other states furnishes an excellent home market.

Then too, observation from railway trains often results in statements which exaggerate the amount of barren land in New England, and this has aided the general impression. As a rule some of the poorest land lies in sight of the railways, while the rest of this region is by no means all of the same character. The tillable land is much more extensive than is often understood, the expert of the Department of Agriculture declares, while the non-tillable land of New England is a valuable asset as grazing or woodland.

"The development of profitable farming in New England has not yet gone so far but there are now many sections where the land is really cheap," says a report just issued by the Department. "To make the production of crops pay good interest on the value of the land it must, of course, be so chosen as to avoid the speculative values caused by suburban or summer residences, or in a few cases by over-estimated farm values. The very cheap land is often to be avoided also because it is not fitted for farming and is at the moment devoid of forest covering. Some of the cheap farms are not large enough in acreage, or produce too little income per acre, to keep a farmer and his family. Such farms, however, may form desirable parts of a larger farm business.

"Most of the real farming is done on land valued at from $10 to $100 per acre, and the greater part of it is perhaps on the land worth from $25 to $60 an acre, the whole farm taken together."

With this conservative beginning the report goes on to show in just what crops farming may be successfully undertaken in this country usually so disposed as farming land.

"The distinctive features of New England farming are due to the fact that the region as a whole is particularly adapted to the growth of grass and trees," the report continues. "So in general, the kinds of farming which depend on the grass crop predominate. These kinds of farming are profitable supplemented by orcharding, and derive great help from the presence of woodland." It is then pointed out that profitable employment for the farmers and their teams is furnished by the presence of the woodland and orcharding work. "Hay growing for the market on the moist or loamy soils of New England is more profitable than corn growing in the Central States." That statement made without modification whatever, shows perhaps more than anything else in the statement, just how highly the expert really regards the farming possibilities of the New England states. Corn has long been the staple crop of the Middle Western states. The story of the farmer who plows all day down a furrow, eats his lunch, and plows back home just in time for dinner, is known to every school-boy. It has rather been relegated to the rear by marvelous tales of traction plows and cultivation on the most scientific scale imaginable.

But for all that, and it may be taken for granted that the utmost careful investigation preceded the making of such a flat statement. "Hay growing for the market on the moist or loamy soils of New England is more profitable than corn growing in the Central states. "Drawn to its logical conclusion, an acre of land on which hay is grown in New England is more valuable to the farmers in the long run than an acre of that famous farming country in the middle West which is used for the production of corn.

IN STERLING LIVES A GIRL

Who Suffered As Many Girls Do—Tells How She Found Relief.

Sterling, Conn.—"I am a girl of 22 years and I used to faint away every month and was very weak. I was also bothered a lot with female weakness. I read your little book 'Wisdom for Women,' and I saw how others had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and decided to try it, and it has made me feel like a new girl and I am now relieved of all these troubles. I hope all young girls will get relief as I have. I never felt better in my life."—Miss BERTHA A. PELOQUIN, Box 116, Sterling, Conn.

Massena, N. Y.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I highly recommend it. If anyone wants to write to me I will gladly tell her about my case. I was certainly in a bad condition as my blood was all turning to water. I had pimples on my face and a bad color, and for five years I had been troubled with suppression. The doctors called it 'Anemia and Exhaustion,' and said I was all run down, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me out all right."—Miss LAVISA MYRES, Box 74, Massena, N. Y.

Young Girls, Heed This Advice.

Girls who are troubled with painful or irregular periods, headache, dizziness, dragging-down sensations, fainting spells or indigestion, should immediately seek restoration to health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

RUSSELL WILL SPEAK TONIGHT

Progressive Nominee For Congress
Will Appear at the Catholic Carnival This Evening.

DEMOCRATS TOMORROW NIGHT

Minstrel Show Will be Repeated and Other Popular Attractions Will be Continued.

The first of the congressional candidates will appear at the Catholic carnival tonight when Prof. Elbert Russell of Earlham college, Progressive nominee for congress from the sixth district, will make an address. Prof. Russell is expected to deliver a short talk on the issues of the day. He is said to be a splendid talker and it is believed by the managers of the carnival that he will attract a good crowd.

The Democrats will hold sway tomorrow night at the carnival. Finly Gray, of Connersville, the present congressman from this district and the Democratic nominee, will be unable to be present, but is said that his brother, George Gray, of Connersville, will speak in his place. Saturday night will be Republican night.

A big crowd was present at the carnival last night and enjoyed the cooling breezes of the park. The dramatic club of St. Mary's church gave an interesting presentation of the comedy, "Frank Glynn's Wife." Two audiences which crowded the hall appreciated the performances. The little theater was made surprisingly cool by a large circular fan which was installed yesterday and will remain for the rest of the carnival.

Tonight the minstrel show which was so popular the opening night will be repeated. A number of changes in the songs and jokes will be made. Performances will be given at eight-thirty and nine-thirty o'clock.

The folks at the fancy work booth will continue tonight and the exchange, which sold out completely last night, will be conducted by the second ward section under the direction of Mrs. William Brown and Mrs. Catherine Jones.

The Rev. J. Walter Cronin of Richmond was present last night and the crowds gathered about him just as they did in the days when he was pastor of St. Mary's church nad was one of the best liked citizens of Rushville. Father Cronin was accompanied by his assistant, the Rev. Albert Duffy.

CURT GOSNELL HAS SENSATION

Single G., Four-Year-Old- Pacing
Stallion in His Stable, Hangs
Up New Record for Half Milers

WINS EVERY START THIS YEAR

Takes Two Events at Toledo Short
Ship Circuit Meeting and Owner is Offered $10,000 for Him

Single G., the sensational four-year-old pacing stallion in Curt Gosnell's stable this year which has already hung up a new world's record for half mile tracks this season and has won six races, all $1,000 stake events, repeated the trick Tuesday at Toledo, Ohio, at the meeting of the Short Ship circuit.

He won the free-for-all pace handily, taking it in straight heats in 2:10½; 2:09½ and 2:11½. It was last Friday that Single G. set a new half mile track record at Toledo by doing the mile in 2:07½. When he started in the free-for-all Tuesday, the field was loaded to beat him.

Michigan King, a Toledo horse, and Nutmoor, had both been sent in to stop him. McKinney's first was sent after the speeder in the first heat and pushed the bay only to 10½. Michigan King was hanging on and could not put steam in to be much of a contender in the last half of the first heat and was entirely out in the last two. Nutmoor went in after Single G in the last two but Gosnell kept Single G working steadily and won with ease in both heats. It is the sixth win in six starts in the Short Ship circuit for this Indiana horse. The track was slow.

Curt Gosnell, who drove the animal here, has been laid up some time with rheumatism and it was doubtful for a time if he would be able to drive Single G in this race.

After his performance last Friday W. H. Barefoot of Cambridge City, owner of Single G., was offered $10,000 for him by a Detroit man. He refused to put a price on the stallion. Single G is considered by track fans to be the most likely four-year-old in the country today. He has shown ability to hang up a much faster mile that he did last Friday at Toledo.

Single G. is staked in 14 races and from present prospects there is nothing in the country that can beat him in the 2:12 pace. Bookmakers are betting so scary of the pacer that he is barred in the bookstand and when a price is quoted it is so prohibitive that the chance of Single G breaking a leg stares the bettor in the face. Gosnell is tutoring Single G for the entire campaign in the half-mile rings and willscout the nag onto big time next season. A year of such campaigning as the horse is getting will make him ripe for the single round.

The way in which Single G got his name is quite interesting. When the colt was foaled there was marked plainly in the center of his forehead, a single letter "G" and from that time on the son of Anderson Wilkes was known as Single G.

TUBERCULOSIS STILL IN LEAD

Monthly Report of State Health Board Shows This Disease Caused 327 Deaths in June.

BETTER THAN LAST YEAR

Lafayette and New Albany Have Highest Death Rates—One Case of Poliomyelitis.

Indianapolis, July 23.—Tuberculosis continues to lead all other disease in Indiana in adding to the death list according to the monthly report of the state board of health, issued today for June. The report states that this dread disease caused 327 deaths, "most of them in the active and useful period of life." This disease left 152 orphans in June. An increase in the trachoma is noted and the estimation is made that cases will be found in at least half the Indiana counties. Only one case of poliomyelitis was reported. The report follows:

"The health for June 1914 throughout the State of Indiana was a shade better than for the preceding year. For one thing, the death rate was 1.3 lower and the sick rate 18 per cent lower. Measles was reported as the most prevalent disease. Diarrhea was second and typhoid fever third.

"Since the special survey of Bartholomew county where 49 cases of trachoma were found, this disease is now being discovered in other counties. From the present indications it is likely that cases of trachoma will be found in at least 50 per cent. of the counties of Indiana.

"One case of poliomyelitis was reported from Pike county. Twenty-two persons were bitten by rabid dogs and received treatment in the Pasteur Laboratory of the State Board of Health. There were 82 cases of diphtheria reported from 12 counties with 13 deaths. One hundred seventy-five cases of scarlet fever in 12 counties with 5 deaths; 124 cases of typhoid fever in 18 counties with 31 deaths. Total number of deaths from all causes, 2,598. In the same month last year, 2,883. Of the total deaths, 880 or 33.8 per cent. were over 65 years of age and 305 or 11.7 per cent. under 1 year of age. The death rate, for June 1914 was 11.3, and in the same month in the preceding year was 12.6. The city death rate was 12.8 and the country death rate 10. The Northern counties showed a death rate of 10.2; the Central counties, 12.1; and the Southern counties, 12.3.

Tuberculosis maintains its place as "captain of the men of death." It caused 327 deaths, most of them in the active and useful period of their life. Of those dead from tuberculosis in the age period of 18 to 40, 25 were males and left 50 orphans, and 51 females, and left 102 orphans under 12 years of age. Total number of orphans caused by tuberculosis in one month, 152. This horrible destruction is recorded every month and yet we permit the monster, consumption, to destroy us when it is within our power to destroy him.

"Measles, deaths numbered 19 scarlet fever, 5; diphtheria, 13. Measles was, therefore, more destructive than both diphtheria and scarlet fever in this month.

The cities named present the following death rates: Indianapolis 15.1; Evansville, 15; Fort Wayne, 10.7; Terre Haute, 12.2; South Bend, 9.92; Gary, 8.7; Muncie, 15.6; Richmond, 9.8; Hammond, 5.6; Anderson, 8.4; East Chicago, 21; Lafayette, 16.4; New Albany, 15.3; Elkhart, 7.7 Michigan City, 10.8.

"Total births reported for June 4,790 (still births excluded); males, 2,497; females, 2,293; Colored births numbered 65; males, 30 females 35. Lake county had the highest birth rate, 34.5; and Posey county, the lowest, 10.1."

GANTNER IS ON INVESTIGATION

county bill was done with two red lines in each instance, while the bills enrolled by Miss McHugh and her assistants were underlined at the section heads with only one red line. The bills enrolled in the senate enrolling room all were underlined with two red lines, each said.

Free let it be understood that Gantner had been employed as chief of the senate enrolling room more than once.

DISCUSSIONS NOT OVER.

London, July 23.—Premier Asquith and Lloyd George conferred with the Unionists and Nationalists leaders for two hours today and announced that discussion would not be broken off as predicted but would be resumed tomorrow on the home rule crisis.

POKING FUN AT JOHN WALLACE

that four of the brightest operatives of the Burns agency were in town, that it had been his privilege to meet the chief of them all, and that the Winters case was a mystery no more.

The Hoosier sleuth was very secretive—that is to say, he always talked in a whisper and permitted his words to escape from only a tiny corner of his mouth. So it was several hours before Urbana was generally aware of his purpose and mission, and even longer than that before the news got to Champaign.

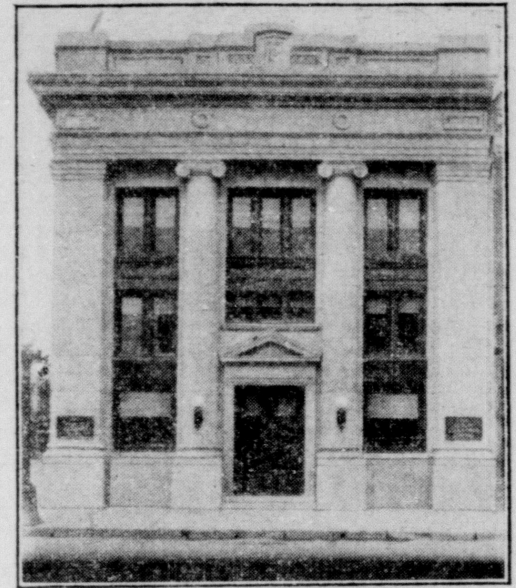

The body was swiftly exhumed, speedy preparations were made for a post-mortem examination, and a hurried call was sent for residents of Newcastle upon whom Wallace relied for positive identification of the child in the coffin; everything went in a rush.

But the mysterious one from Indiana made one mistake. He took it for granted there was no such person as Larry. The name sounded "phony," he pointed out.

RETURN HOME.

A majority of the local Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, have returned from Terre Haute where they attended the national encampment of the order. The only remaining Rushville people at the camp are Gen. S. L. Trabue, Capt. G. P. Hunt, and Bert Conde. The Rushville company arrived home last night.
